My apologies for the delay in responding to your submission. We have received over 100 submissions, and this one fell through the cracks.

Attached is our working version, with formatting revisions. You need to check on a few things.

The conflict statement belongs in the text. Please insert. (I have marked in yellow)

We need a short biographical statement of the author. Please insert. (I have marked in yellow)

We have reformatted your paragraphing, which did not follow our requested style (indent all paragraphs)

In some places you had written "the researchers" but this paper does not indicate other researchers (even though you had a co-presenter for the conference). I have changed to "the researcher". If you want researcher, you need to indicate this somewhere, even if the other researchers are not co-authors. (Make an Author's Note comment thanking them by name?)

Otherwise it looks good.

You can either return our working copy with your insertions, or simply send us text in an email.

Please do this before end of the weekend.

Thanks,

Rob Dickey
