Editor International Journal of Research (GRANTHAALAYAH)

We have read and used scientific articles published in GRANTHAALAYAH.

The performance of the GRANTHAALAYAH was excellent, and the published article helped us conduct research and write scientific reports.

I am Bernadetha Nadeak, representing other authors from Universitas Kristen Indonesia.

We have completed a scientific article entitled "The Effectiveness of Mastery Learning Technique on Improving Students' Ability in Completing English National Examination."

We hope this article can be published in the GRANTHAALAYAH because exciting findings in the scientific report can become new treasures in science, especially in education sciences.

We are willing to go through the review process following GRANTHAALAYAH standards.

Editor and reviewer comments:

Reviewer:

1. Clarity of Research Objectives: The research objectives are well-stated, but it would be beneficial to provide more specific details on the aspects of students' abilities being measured. Are there particular skills or competencies targeted by the mastery learning technique?
2. Demographic Information: The abstract mentions Primary School, Junior High School, and Senior High School students, but it lacks information on their age groups. Including this detail could enhance the reader's understanding of the study's scope.
3. Research Design Transparency: While the "pre and post-test design" is mentioned, it would be helpful to elaborate on the specific methods employed in administering the pre and post-tests. This clarity ensures better replicability.
4. Sampling Justification: The rationale for selecting Junior High School students as the sample population needs clarification. Why were they chosen over Primary or Senior High School students? A brief justification would strengthen the research design.
5. Instrument Validity and Reliability: The abstract mentions using a set of English Final Examination as the research instrument. To strengthen the study's credibility, include information on the validity and reliability checks performed on this instrument.
6. Statistical Results Interpretation: The abstract states that "t-value is greater than t-table," but a brief explanation of what this indicates in the context of the study would enhance comprehension for readers less familiar with statistical analysis.
7. Significance Level Discussion: Although the significance level is mentioned, a brief discussion on its importance in determining the validity of the findings would be valuable for readers without a statistical background.
8. Transferability Considerations: It would be beneficial to discuss the generalizability of the findings. Are there any limitations to applying the mastery learning technique in different educational settings or cultural contexts?

9. Recommendation Elaboration: The suggestion to implement mastery learning technique is made, but offering specific strategies or insights on how educational institutions could integrate this technique effectively would be a valuable addition.
10. Incorporating Practical Implications: Consider discussing the practical implications of the findings. How can educators and policymakers utilize this information to enhance the overall education system and student performance beyond the scope of the study?

I hope you can make improvements as soon as possible and send the revised article again via this email.
