Editor and reviewer comments:

Reviewer:

- 1. Clarity in Research Objective: The research objective is clear, focusing on the integration of group discussion method using audio visual learning media. However, consider providing more details on the specific aspects of listening skills being assessed to guide readers better.
- 2. Methodology Clarification: The methodology mentions a Quasy Experimental design, but more information is needed on the study duration, the number of participants, and the criteria for selecting Teruna Muda Junior High School. Provide a clearer explanation for better reproducibility.
- 3. Instrument Validity and Reliability: Ensure a discussion about the validity and reliability of the test and observation sheets is included. This information is crucial to establishing the trustworthiness of the study's findings.
- 4. Data Presentation Improvement: While the average result (74) is presented, consider including standard deviations or other statistical measures to provide a more comprehensive understanding of the data distribution.
- 5. Comparison Details: The statement "student learning outcomes using the QA method with audio media is no better than..." lacks specific quantitative data. Elaborate on the comparison results and include statistical significance if applicable.
- 6. Discussion Depth: The conclusion briefly mentions the choice between QA method and conventional learning. Expand the discussion by addressing implications for teaching practices and potential areas for further research.
- 7. Limitations Acknowledgment: Identify and discuss any limitations in the research design or implementation, acknowledging potential factors that might have influenced the outcomes.
- 8. Keywords Clarification: Consider providing brief explanations or definitions for the keywords—Question and Answer, Audio Visual Learning, and Achievement—especially if there are specific interpretations or nuances relevant to your study.

- 9. Educational Context Description: Provide a concise overview of the educational context at Teruna Muda Junior High School to help readers understand the general environment in which the research was conducted.
- 10. Grammar and Language: Review and edit the abstract for grammatical precision and clarity. Ensure that each sentence is well-structured, contributing to a smooth flow of information.

I hope you can make improvements as soon as possible and send the revised article again via this email.
