Thanks for your efforts.
Pls check the references in your manuscript. I have cross checked now. But many of them are not matching. Maybe it was a mistake.
Total list of references in main text. These should be in the reference section too.

Dear editor,

The citation that I use is the endnote technique, which is to quote names using the first name so that it is different from writing a bibliography that begins with the last name.
I will fix it so that the name is the same as the bibliography. Thank you
