Dear

Editor International Journal of Research (GRANTHAALAYAH)

I have read and used scientific articles published in GRANTHAALAYAH.
The performance of the GRANTHAALAYAH was excellent, and the published article helped me conduct research and write scientific reports.

I am Lamhot Naibaho, from Universitas Kristen Indonesia, Jakarta.

I have completed a scientific article entitled "Teachers' Roles on English Language Teaching: A Students Centered Learning Approach."

I hope this article can be published in the GRANTHAALAYAH because exciting findings in the scientific report can become new treasures in science, especially in education sciences.

I am willing to go through the review process following GRANTHAALAYAH standards.

Best Regards,

Lamhot Naibaho

Thank you for submitting the manuscript to GRANTHAALAYAH.

We have completed our evaluation, and the reviewers recommend reconsidering the manuscript following minor revisions. Please resubmit the revised manuscript by March 24th, 2019, or ask whether an alternate date would be acceptable. We invite you to send it back after addressing the comments below.

When revising the manuscript, consider carefully all issues mentioned in the reviewers' comments: outline every change made in response to their comments and provide suitable explanations for any remarks not addressed. Please also note that the revised submission may need to be reviewed.

To submit a revised manuscript, please log in as an author at this email, and navigate to the "Revision" folder. GRANTHAALAYAH values your contribution, and we look forward to receiving the revised manuscript.

Editor and reviewer comments:

Reviewer:

1. Clarity and Conciseness: The abstract is informative, but it could benefit from being more concise. Consider trimming redundant phrases to enhance clarity and brevity.
2. Explicit Definition of Roles: Specify and define each role mentioned in the results. This will add precision to the findings and help readers clearly understand the roles a teacher should embody.
3. Justification for Library Research: Elaborate on why a library research method was chosen. Provide a rationale for selecting this approach over others, ensuring a robust methodological foundation for the study.
4. Inclusion of Examples: Incorporate specific examples or case studies to illustrate how teachers can effectively play each role. This will enhance practicality and applicability for educators.
5. Diversity in Sources: Ensure a diverse range of sources in the literature review. A variety of perspectives and theories will strengthen the theoretical framework of your study.
6. Linkage to Student-Centered Learning Principles: Clearly connect the identified teacher roles to the principles of student-centered learning. Explain how each role aligns with fostering an environment centered around student engagement and autonomy.
7. Methodological Transparency: Provide more details on the process of selecting books and documents as instruments. Explain the criteria used to ensure the reliability and relevance of these sources.
8. Comprehensive Keywords: Consider expanding the list of keywords to encompass a broader spectrum. This will enhance the discoverability of your article and attract a wider readership.
9. Application Beyond Language Teaching: Discuss potential applications of the identified roles beyond language teaching. This broader perspective could make your findings relevant to a wider educational audience.
10. Addressing Potential Limitations: Anticipate and discuss any limitations in your study, such as potential biases in the selected literature. Acknowledging these limitations will strengthen the credibility of your research.

I hope you can make improvements as soon as possible and send the revised article again via this email.
